

On behalf of our firm and my family, we recommend that NHTSA implement uniform rules with respect to the type and height of bumpers that may be used on vehicles operating on U.S. highways. This include limiting the height of bumpers such that bumpers are no higher than bumpers on standard sedans now operating on U.S. highways so as to prevent unnecessary injury and death to passengers of such sedans.